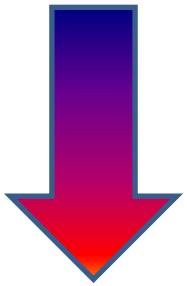
Scene Setting

NetHui 2012

InternetNZ

The Internet is for everyone

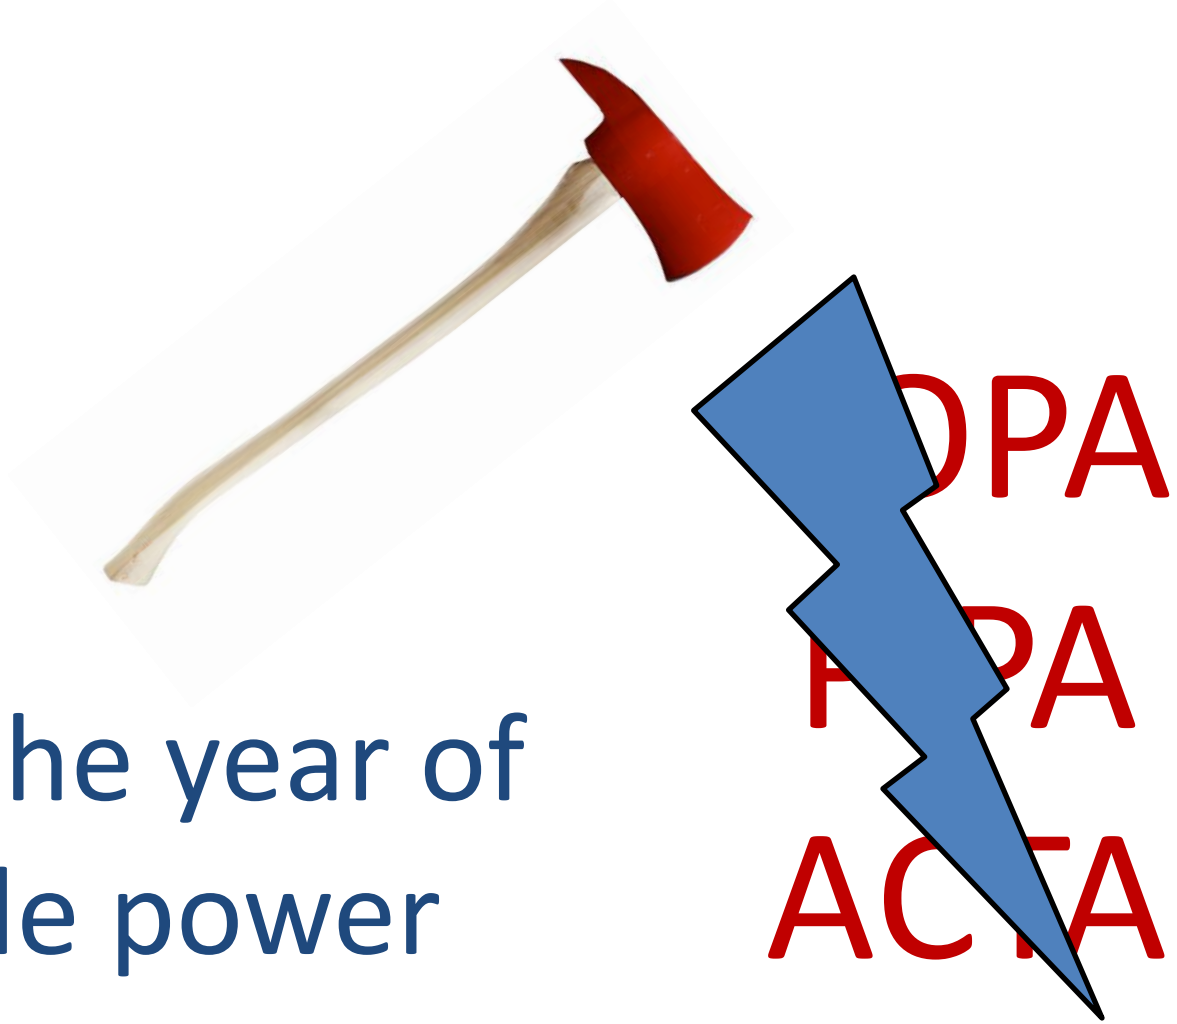


Everyone has a stake in the Internet

InternetNZ

The future of the Internet must not be negotiated behind closed doors by governments alone

InternetNZ



2012: the year of people power

InternetNZ

But the battle with four letter acronyms (and closed doors) continues

InternetNZ

TPPA

Trans Pacific Partnership Agreement

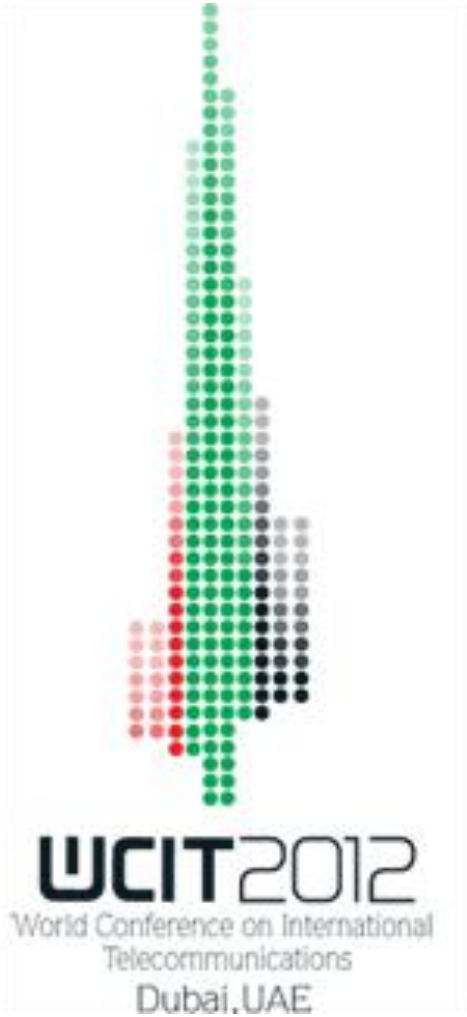
InternetNZ

Launch today

InternetNZ

WCIT

Review of the International Telecommunications Regulations (ITRs) by the International Telecommunications Union (ITU)



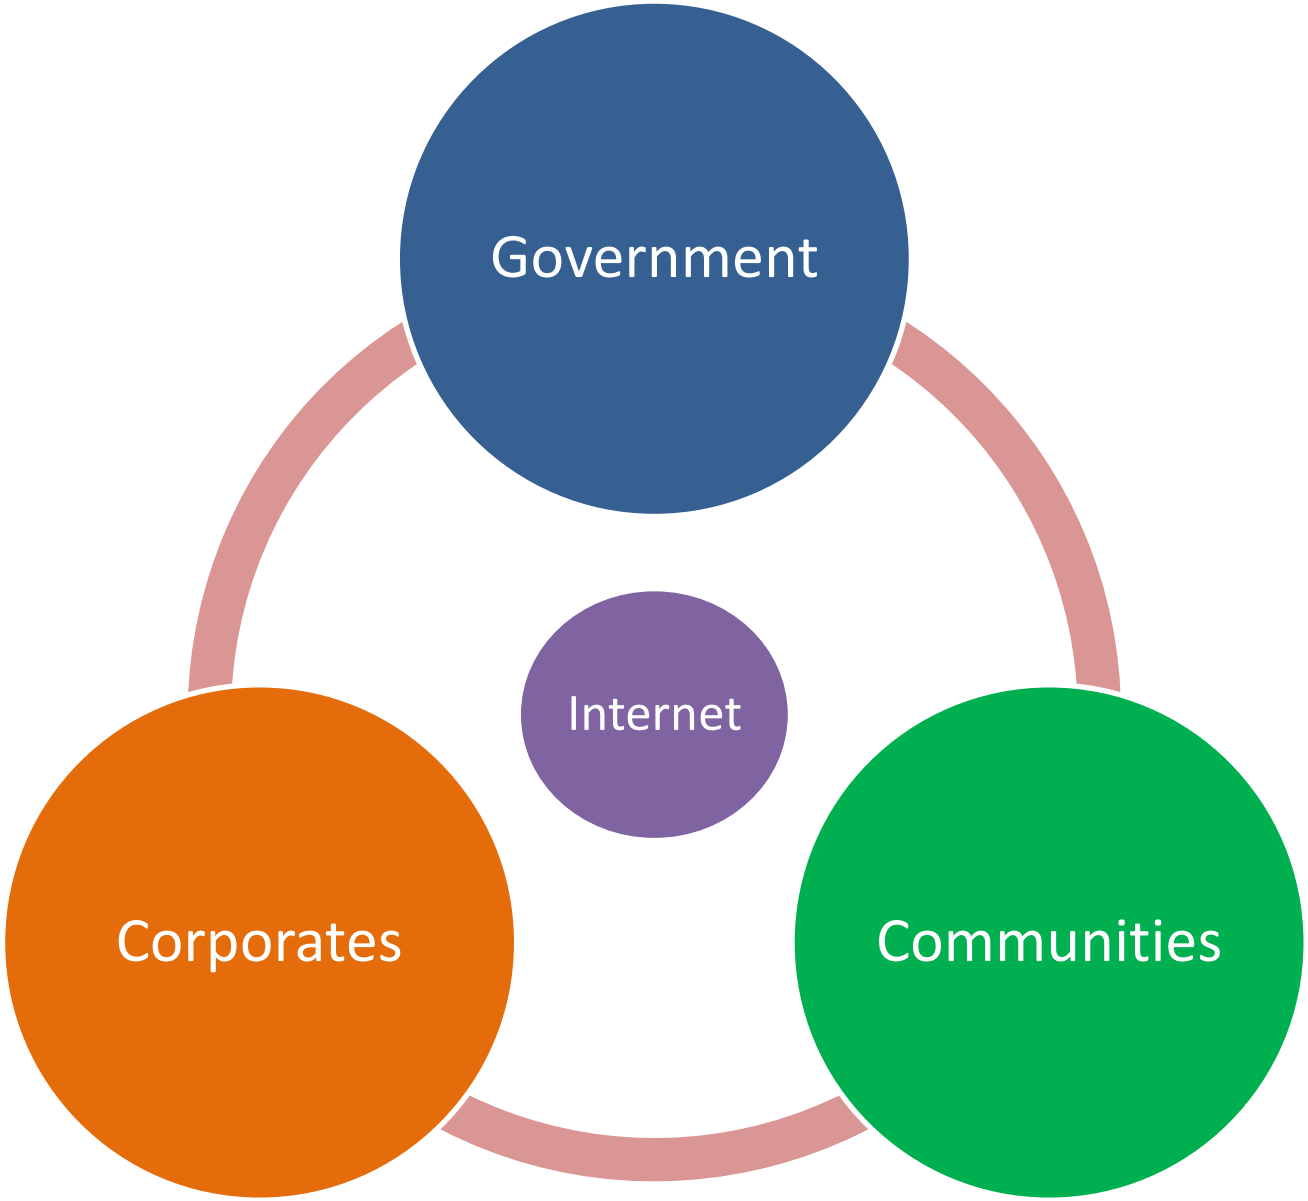
InternetNZ

Issues at NetHui 2012

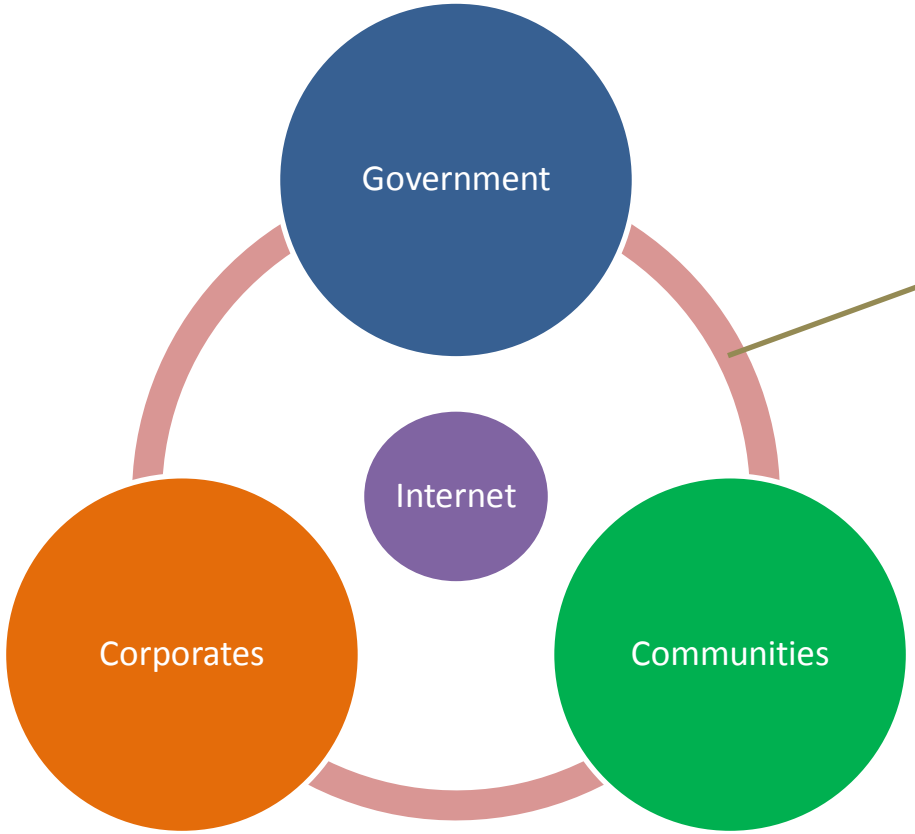
InternetNZ

Wordle: key themes

InternetNZ

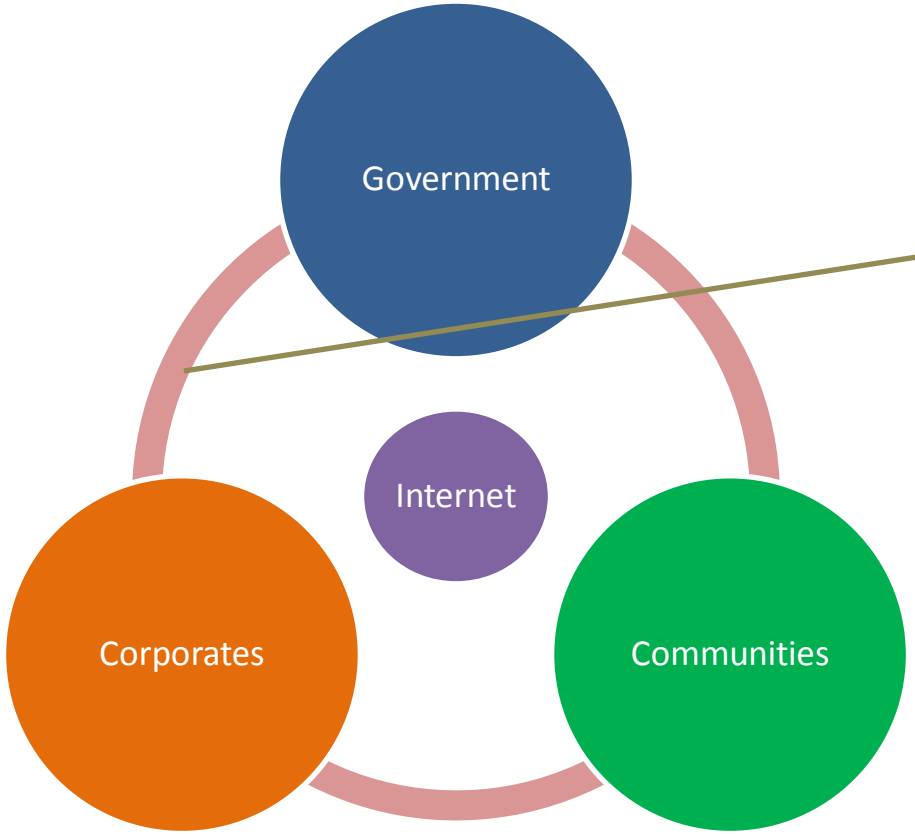


InternetNZ



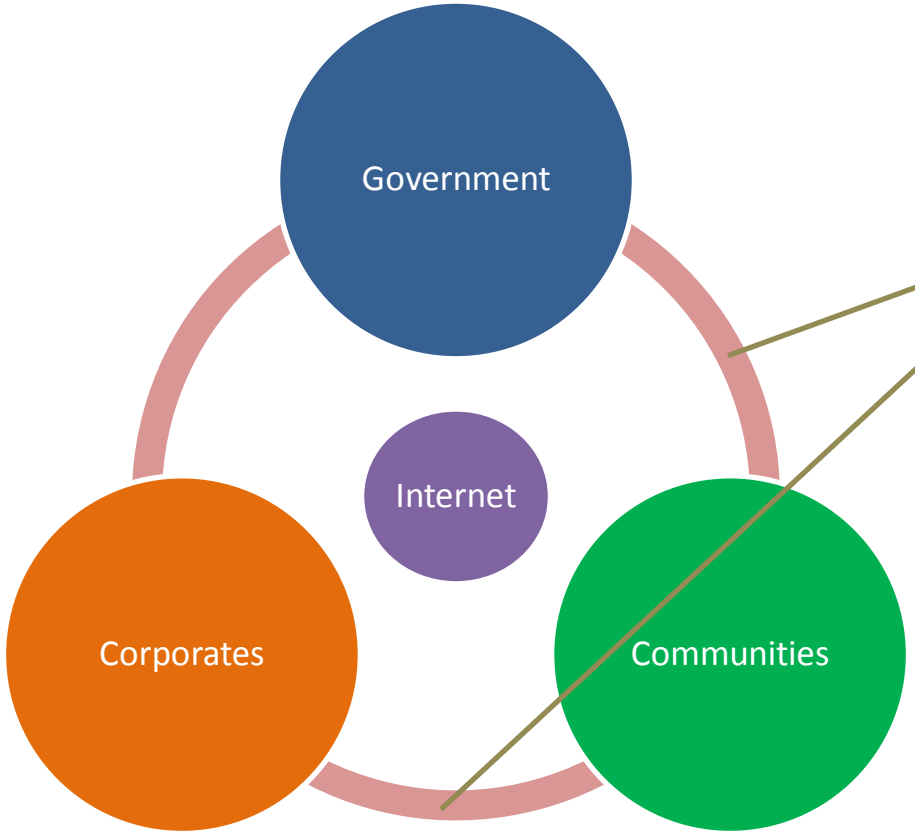
- Rural Internet
- Health
- Education
- Open Government
- Online services
- Digital inclusion
- Human rights

InternetNZ



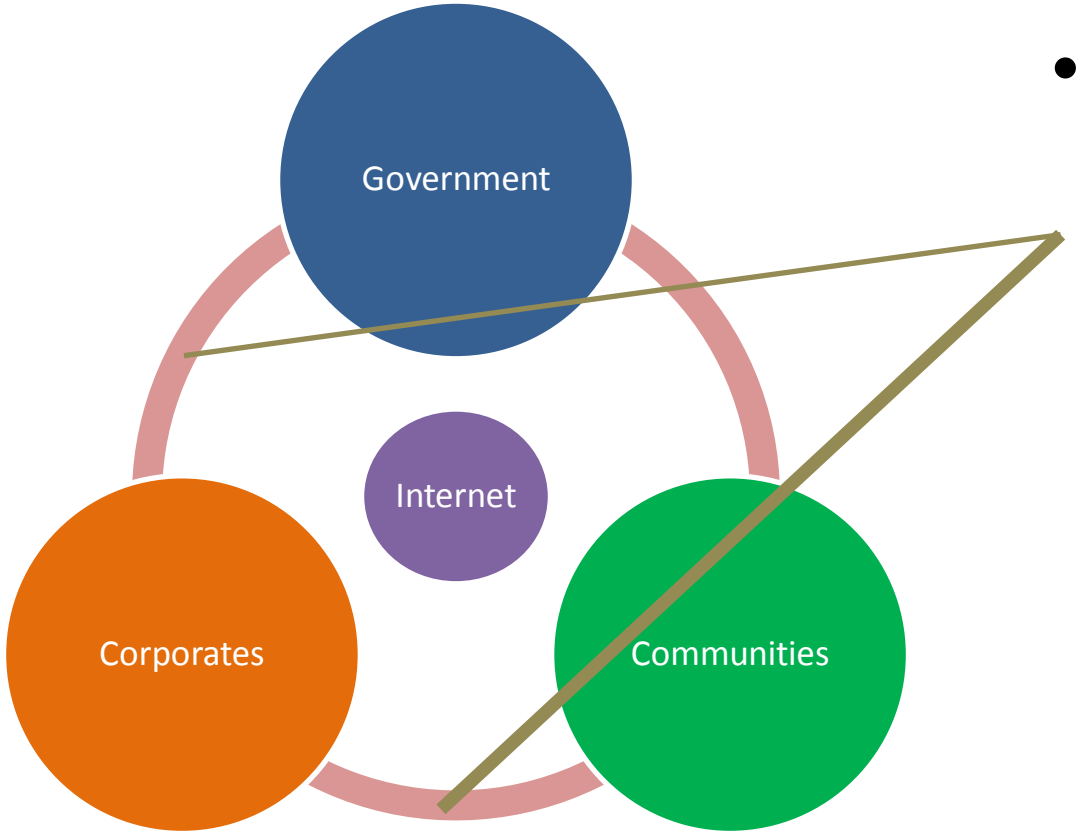
- Economy
- UFB, start-up opportunities
- Data regulations

InternetNZ



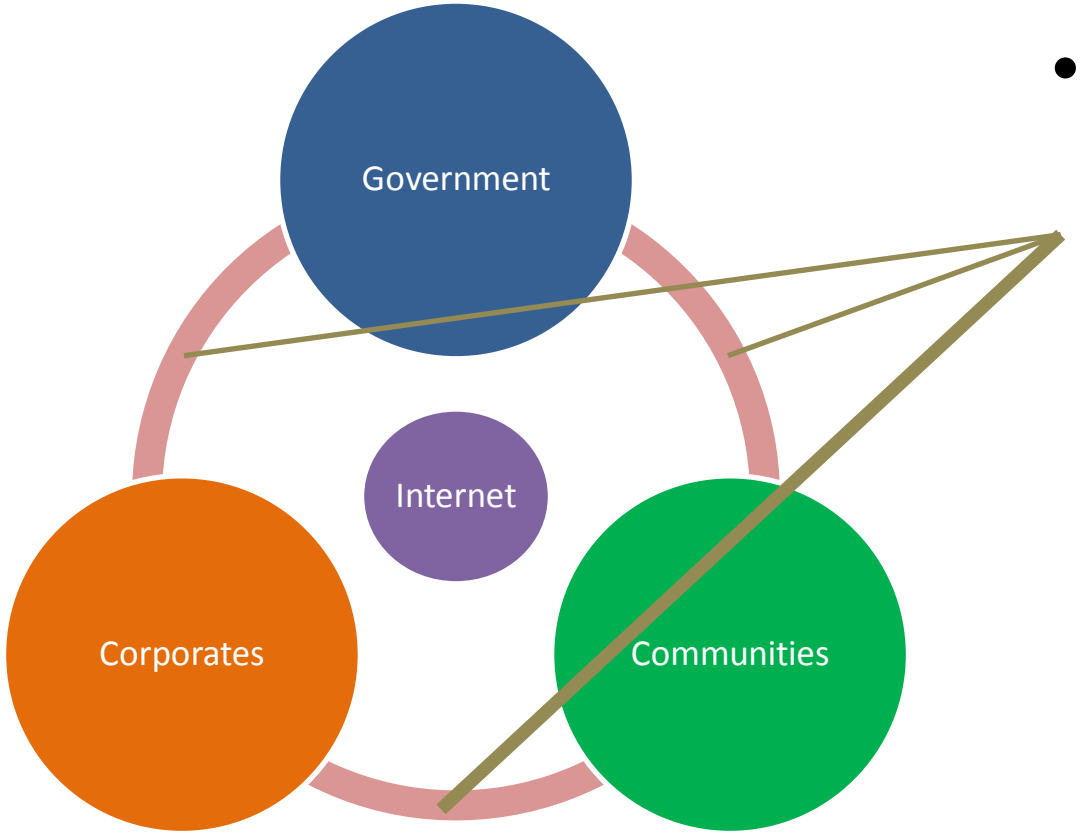
- Privacy
- Regulating online behaviour

InternetNZ



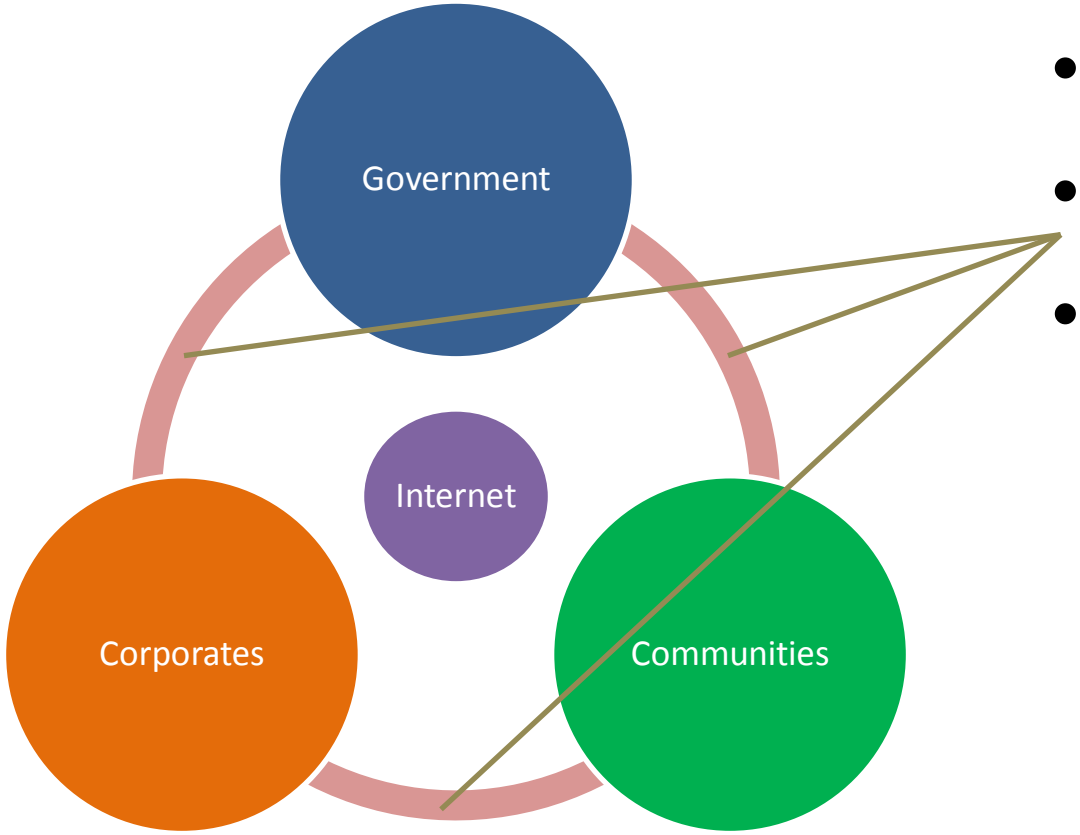
- Convergence

InternetNZ



- Copyright

InternetNZ



- Internet access
- Cybersecurity
- Internet governance

InternetNZ

Summary

- The Internet is for everyone. Everyone has a stake in in the Internet.
- The future of the Internet must not be negotiated behind closed doors by governments alone: TPPA, WCIT
- Wide range of themes at NetHui 2012: Access, Education, Governance, Business, Security, Law, Globalisation, Culture, Openness, ...

InternetNZ

Thank you

Vikram Kumar
CE, InternetNZ
Email: vikram@internetnz.net.nz

InternetNZ